Innovative Trio for a Sustainable Future:
Collectron, Pound Ventures, and INNOVO Forge Groundbreaking Partnership

Global, December 20, 2023 - In a landmark move for sustainable technology and investment, Pound Ventures has expanded its Profitable Net Zero Partnership to include Collectron, led by CEO Mike Becker, and INNOVO. This trio is set to transform the clean technology scene in California.

The partnership unites Collectron's prowess in commercializing clean technologies, Pound Ventures' visionary leadership, and INNOVO's dedication to slashing global CO2 emissions. This alliance will accelerate sustainable technology adoption and enact meaningful environmental progress.

With Mike Becker at the helm, Collectron's sustainable technologies are a keystone in this partnership, poised to draw substantial clean tech sector investments. The initiative promises not only innovative environmental solutions but also profitable investment opportunities.

"In this pivotal partnership, INNOVO brings to the table our extensive network and innovative platform aimed at halving CO2 emissions profitably," states Martin Kelly, Founder of INNOVO. "Our role is not just about investment; it's about integrating cutting-edge technologies and sustainable practices into the fabric of global industries, starting with California's vibrant economy."

This strategic collaboration is in step with California's commitment to environmental leadership and tech innovation, showcasing the impact of joint efforts on climate change and economic greening.
